

How I became Intel Labs Europe Research Director: A story how unpredictable a career is

Dr. Astrid Elbe, Managing Director Intel Lab Europe

Astrid's Journey towards Intel Labs Europe Director

Gläserne Decke / glass ceiling

Summary & Recommendations

Do not work with the main goal to be promoted and to make a carrier

Figure out your strength and in what you are better than anybody else

Be fearless and take risk. I have not yet found a safe and secure part time leadership job.

Follow your passion and gut feeling to decide for a new project or job

If you want to make a carrier and take leadership and responsibility you will need to leave your comfort zone, stay flexible and figure out every day new compromises between your private and your professional life

THANK YOU!

For further questions or follow up feel free to contact me under astrid.elbe@intel.com

